

November 05, 2025: On Being Sabotaged by Our Own Government

There is not a single doubt in my mind that there is a spying device watching me inside of my own property and attempting to 'drive' distractions into my life to cause me disruptions and harm.

This is the work and legacy of Donald Trump.

Thank you, Donald, for exposing yourself and your team as a group of maniacal idiots that only have your own selfish motives in your heart.

We were willing to 'look past' your 'faults' when we believed that you were genuinely attempting to help Americans.

Now, we can all see the truth of your motives and we choose to overlook nothing about your terrible way of life.

Get fucked, old man. You will never lead America or the world ever again.

Good luck leading even your own family.

Kimberly, you looked like a disgusting old hag on the dance floor the other night.

Grow up already and become a proper woman.
